My Goals!

This year I have many goals to complete. One of my goals is to pay attention to the teacher when she is teaching. This is how it will work. 20 minutes after I come back from recess I will sit on my desk listening to the teacher. If someone trying to disturb me I will ignore him. Another way I will achieve my goal is when I'm listening to the teacher I will not fool around. Another goal of mine is that I should make good friends. I will look at good kids and then I will make them as my friends. And I will teach my friends to behave. This year I will try my best to achieve my goals.

My Goals For This Year

My goals for this year are being a nicer person and to become a better reader. One of my goals is being a nicer person. One suggestion on how to become a nicer person is to help my sister. One other suggestion is to help other people. An example is if a lady drops some things, I can help her pick it up. One other goal for this year is that I want to be a better reader. One suggestion on how to become a better reader is to read at home and at school. Another way to become a better reader is to read every day. I have lot goals for this year.

My Goals

My goals for this year are to help my mom do chores around the house and to get good marks in my presentations. One of my goals is to help my mom do chores around the house. I can achieve this goal by washing my own dishes, folding my own clothes and dusting. Another way I can achieve this goal is to ask my mom when she needs help. Another one of my goal is to get good marks in my presentations. I can achieve this goal by practising, speaking loudly and making good eye contact. Another way I can achieve my goal is that I practise in front of my family and ask them what they think in the end. If I work hard enough maybe I can achieve my goals.

My Goals

I have 2 goals to achieve. To be respectful is to treat other people the way you want to be treated. I am going to treat my parents with respect, to listen to them, and whatever they say I will do it. I am also going to treat my teacher with respect, to listen to her, do what she gives and to pay attention to her. Another goal for this year is to eat healthy. I am going to eat healthy by eating fruits like pear, grapes, peach and mango. I am also going to stay healthy by playing soccer, basketball, and tennis. I am going to try to achieve my goal by practicing them.

My Goal and Plan For Meeting My Goal

By: Gurliv

My goal is to always get better in math and print neatly. My plan for meeting my goal is to always believe in myself and I can have persistence to achieve my goal and be positive.

I have a dream...

By: Hala

My dream is to stop child labour and how I'll do it is to learn to be a lawyer. I'll have to become educated and to get a good job. The reason why my dream is to stop child labour is because kids in some stories are treated like they are not supposed to be treated. Someday I'll be like Martin Luther King Jr. who taught people to fight with their words. How I'll achieve my goal I talked about, is to get my diploma and my scholarship but most of all to get your diploma and scholarship is to get education. Why my dream is important to me is because I don't want kids younger than me doing work that's really hard. They don't deserve to be treated like that. They have a right to have a family and people that love them don't deserve to sell their family. I wonder if their masters would feel if they were slaves?

I bet I could write a whole page of my goals but I have decided to pick out the main ones the ones that I think will help we over the rest of my school year.

My goals, and I'm not talking about the goals you get when you play hockey or soccer, I'm talking about a goal that will help you for the rest of your life. A goal that will give you a reason to come to school, a goal that will make you proudly stand on the stage for your graduation day. Goals are not always big at first actually, all goals start off small and get bigger as you work on it through out the years. Here are some of my goals.

My first goal is to proof read my work. I think proof reading my work will help me make sure that my work is good enough to hand in, and doing that I bet I will be seeing some improvement in my report card for the rest of the school year.

My second goal is to make sure that I know what the teacher is saying in class so I don't go home wondering what taught in class. I can achieve this goal by putting up my hand more in class over the next two weeks. By doing this I bet I will be more into my school work.

My third goal is to be more active in school like trying out for a school sport team and trying my best in gym class. I will try and do this over the next few weeks.

My final goal is the goal to add up all my other goals and make it count in a big way, a way just like I said at the beginning of this text that will make me proudly stand on the stage of my graduation.

Hello my name is Abdullah and I am 11 year old and I was born in 2000. Today I will be telling you my goals right now right this moment, that I will, that right I will accomplish any ways forget about that for now this is my introduction and I will be telling you my 3 short terms goals that I chose and I will be tell in you how I am going to accomplish it in addition I will tell you 1 of my long term goal for this year that I will accomplish.

Well this paragraph should be my long term goal but instead I thought to put my first short term goal instead. My first short term goal is to become a more fluently reader and to become an awesome, awesome reader to read to higher levels in books! I will tell you how I'm a going to accomplish it right now I will accomplish it by reading out loud at the mirror so I know what word I'm a stumbling on I will also accomplish this by reading beyond 60 minutes.

Ok..... So that was my first term goal now I'm going to tell you about my second short term goal! Well this all goes in to language so I bet my second goal is to be a more organized person witch I mean by that is print neater my desk has to be neat and tidy and my whole binder has to be all organized! I will accomplish this goal by telling my teacher "Ms. Hiley" and tell her were I should put my all papers in and were should I keep my stuff. By stuff I mean binder, pencil case etc.

The third short term goal is to proof read and edit my work and well that means all grammar correctly neat and more also I want to be better in presenting my work like in prezi ,power point and more. I will be accomplishing this by asking by friend's family teachers for help when I don't understand what is wrong and be asking for that I will be fully in attention.

Well finally..... that wasted 5 minutes of my life but I was worth it buying telling people that could help me. Anyways I will be telling my long-term goal now my long term goals is to get a better marks in language like a "A,A+" I will accomplish this by doing all my shot term goal and I will reach that goal after in 2-4 weeks.

THANK YOU!

Hi, my name is Uzair and these are my goals. I will try my best to achieve them. I have three short term goals and one long term goal. The three short term goals are: I have to get as in math, science, and social studies for my short term goal. For my second short term goal I have to listen in class. Finally my last short term goal is that I will try not to forget my gym clothes! Now let us begin!!

First of all, I have to get as in my math, science, and social studies on my report card. I am setting this goal, because if I achieve this goal, then my parents will be very happy and so am I, since I got as in math, science, and social studies. I will try to get as in the following four weeks. If I can do that, then accordingly to my thought, I will be able to get as in every test I finish. I think I can achieve this goal. This goal is very important to me for my future life, and now!

I will listen in class, even if someone is asking me a question that relates to the topic. I should be still, facing the teacher, stop everything I am doing, and be ready to learn when the teacher is teaching. I would obviously not answer the guy if it does not relate to the topic. If I have a question I will raise my hand, instead of calling out. I got to practice my listening skills, and from my opinion, I think this is achievable for me. This is very important to me, because if I don't listen in class, then all in all I will fail my first goal. I will try to achieve this goal for the next four weeks.

I will try not to forget my gym clothes at home, for my third and final sort term goal. This will help me, by being prepared for gym clothes, and have a positive gym mark. If I forget my gym clothes at home, then I will lose my positive gym marks and turn them into negative gym marks. I think this is achievable for me generally from my point of view. I will try to achieve this goal in the next four weeks. This is important to me, because if I forget something I "have" to use for my job, then I will be fired.

For my long term goal, I will try to be top in class, in math, science, and social studies. If I can achieve this goal, then probably I can achieve all the goals I set above. I think this is important to me, because when I grow up, I could be a doctor, or a scientist. This was my first goal I ever set in my life, and it would be the final goal I set!

These goals I set are very important to me. If I can't achieve any, or I am having trouble with them, then I will divide the goals in smaller parts so I can achieve it very easily, like the Power of Division. I will have to do these goals step by step, or get help. I won't give up!!!!!!!!!!!!!!

Goals

Hi today I'm setting goals to help me sort out my weakness. I have four goals three short term goals, and one long term goals. My short term goals are asking questions, participating in DPA and taking advantage of intramurals. I also have one long term goal which is getting involved more in school.

My first short term goal is to ask questions during class because then I won't be stuck in class. About two to three times a day over two weeks.

My second short term goal is to participate in DPA because if the opportunity for me to play. I should use it every day.

My last short term goal is to take advantage of intramurals. So that I get active and I have practice for gym. I want to attend every game.

My long term goal is to get more involved in school because I want to enjoy my school year.

Also, I want to use every available resource the school has for me. So these are my goals for the year. Thank you for listening to them.

Hi, my name is Riddhi Patel. Today I am going to share you my goals for this year. I am also going to share how I am going to achieve this goal. My short-term goals are: paying more attention in class, get to class on time, keep my desk and my other materials organized. So, let's get started.

My first goal is paying more attention in class. I will achieve this by listening to the teacher or speaker and stop fidgeting in my desk or talking to my neighbour. I will do this every single day so it can help me understand and learn more in class.

My second goal, I am going to share with you is getting to class on time. I will achieve this by getting ready five minutes before the bell rings. This will also help me not miss any of my lessons or parts of the lessons we are learning.

The final goal is my long-term goal, which is keeping my desk, and my materials clean and organize so I can find my stuff I need to use. I can achieve this by keeping all my stuff appropriately filed in the correct location. This will help me keep my materials tidy.

These are the three short-term goals I am focusing on and my long-term goal I want to achieve this year. These goals can also help me in the future by making my life easier to live and organized.

Deeksha's Goals
Power of the Pen

Hi, my name is Deeksha. I am going to tell you my goals. My short-term goals are to get better at drawing pictures of animals, I want to be able to use colours with creativity, I want to be able to shade pictures, and I want to be able to draw pictures without looking at the computer. My long-term goal is to be good in doing art.

Firstly, this will enable me to get better at drawing animals. I want to be able to draw animals so that if we ever have to draw one in class, I can draw one. To achieve this goal I might practice art at home or I might take art classes. This goal is attainable but not relevant.

Secondly, I want to be able to colour pictures with creativity. I want to be able to colour pictures with creativity so that I can get better marks in art. To achieve this goal I might buy new colours to help me colour better. I will practice this a little bit twice a week. This goal is attainable but not relevant.

Thirdly, I want to learn how to shade in pictures instead of colouring pictures in case I ever forget my pencil case somewhere and I feel bored. To achieve this goal I will check on the internet for help every other day. This goal is attainable, but not relevant.

My last short-term goal is to be able to draw pictures without using a computer all the time. I want to be able to draw so that if I ever have a project at school I can just draw right away and I don't have to wait to get home and look on the computer and then start drawing. This goal is attainable, but not relevant.

So altogether, the reason I would like to be good in art. The reason I want to be good in art is so that I can draw wherever I am. This goal is not attainable or relevant. For achieving this goal I will give myself four months

Those are all the goals I will try to achieve this year and if I am not able to achieve them, I might try again next year to improve some more.

Thank you

POWER OF THE PEN

Keeping goals is the key to success in life. As you complete your goals people start seeing a difference in you. My goals are listed as follows, secondly paying more attention to my teacher, Thirdly improving in language communication and last but not least practising math everyday.

Being responsible for school work basically makes life easier for me and my teacher. Freezing the tension in your strangled mind. I will achieve my goal by convincing myself to do it.

I stated before that paying more attention to the teacher is very beneficial, even if you do it for 2 weeks. It may sound common but it is an important factor for success. I will achieve my goal by talking less and focusing more in class.

Thirdly, I want to improve my communication skills. Better communication will lead to a better social life. Scientists have discovered that better communication can bring positivity easily in you. This way the teacher can understand me better and you can understand the teacher better.

Lastly, practising math which is a major subject can build self-esteem in a person when working on a word problem. Solving in the real world or just practically would result in a better report card.

My main goal is to get better grades on my report card. I will achieve this goal if I will work on my goal, spend a lot of time, and follow my short goals.

In conclusion, I will achieve my goal if I put my mind to it and work hard on it.

Hello my name is Shreya and today I want to share my goals with you. My long term goal is to improve my vocabulary. To achieve this goal I have four short term goals. My first short term goal is to go to the library more often. My second short term goal is to check the dictionary when I find a challenging word. My third short term goal is to write the complicated words into sentences. My last short term goal is to put all my sentences into a folder/ folder so I can remember the definitions of each one.

My first short term goal is to go to the library more often so I can get more challenging books, therefore I will have advanced words that will challenge me. Doing this will help me achieve my long term goal. I will go to the library once in two school weeks. I think this goal is achievable and it will take me two to three weeks to accomplish it.

My second short term goal is to check the dictionary when I come across a word that I don't use in my everyday life. I would like to start when I come across those kinds of words in a book, billboard etc. I think this goal is achievable and it will take me one to two weeks to accomplish it.

My third short term goal is to write the tough words into sentences, doing this will increase my understanding in the word and it will naturally become a part of my vocabulary. I would like to write a sentence for each word. I will either do this at school when I have free time or at home when I'm done my homework. I think this goal is achievable and it will take two to three weeks to achieve it.

My last short term goal is to make a folder or a duo tang that I will put all my sentences in, so if I forget the meaning I can look back. I will make this folder the first time I get a page of sentences, I will look over the pages in my folder every once in two weeks. I assume this will take me one or two weeks to achieve this goal.

Finally my long term goal is to improve my vocabulary. This goal will only be achieved if my short term goals are achieved, because my short term goals will help me achieve my long term goal. I want to achieve this goal because when I'm writing something or presenting I can use the more complicated words. I think this goal is achievable and it will help me in the future. I am pretty sure that this goal will take me three to four weeks to accomplish.

I have now stated all my goals. I hope to achieve these goals because that will make me stronger in language and it will also help me in many other different ways. I think these are achievable goals and I will try very hard to achieve them.

My Smart Goals

Hi! My name is Simran and I'm 11 years old. This year, I'm going to set some goals that can help me have a successful year. My grade six school year goals are based on gym. I want to improve in gym class and these are the goals that going to guide me to be more successful.

My ultimate goal is to get an "A" in gym class on my last report this year, which will be in June. My regular mark in gym is a "B" and so that's why I want to try to get an "A". My goal is very much achievable because I have organized my short term goals to help me get to my ultimate goal. The short term goals are going to be my steps to help me reach my ultimate goal.

My first short term goal is to participate in gym class more than I do now. We have gym twice a week and that's why if I participate a bit more every day, I can improve. This step can be achieved because it is only a step towards my success. I will see how I improved after two weeks.

My second step or short term goal is to believe in myself. For example: when I'm playing basketball in gym class and we're doing ball handling and I can't do some of the drills, I feel that I'm a loser and I can't do anything. This has to stop! All I need to do is to start practicing. I shouldn't give up. I think I should be optimistic.

I think that these goals are pretty easy to achieve and they will help me have a great school year. If I follow these goal, then I'll be a good student I gym class and I'll appreciate that. This is the power of the pen: you decide how you're going to start your story and what type of ending you want to give it.

In life, everyone should make goals because when make goals they work hard to achieve them. When you set a goal for yourself, you approve yourself and thrive the best you can be. Even I want to improve myself, so I have set some goals too. Some of my goals are: to improve my spelling, organize texts, and expand my vocabulary and to read fluently.

Spelling is the most important thing in writing my first goal is to improve my spelling will accomplish this goal by memorizing the spellings that I do not know. I will write down the word ten times in order to learn it. I will even practice my spelling, by playing spelling games on the computer.

Writing organizing texts is the most important thing in language. So my second goal is to write in chronological order. Want to achieve this goal because for high school I want to go to North Park. I will accomplish this goal by first writing jot notes then writing it in order of occurrence. I will also try to write sentences in order each day.

Reading fluently is something you do every day because words are everywhere. So my third goal is to read fluently. I want achieve this goal because I want to start reading fluently. I will accomplish this goal by reading 50 minutes a day.

My last goal is to expand my vocabulary. I want to achieve this goal because then I will understand things more. . I will accomplish this goal by learning ten new words each day from the dictionary.

These are all my goals. I hope you set some too.

Hi my name is Kimran from Ms.Hiley's class. My long term goal is to try to get A, A- or A+ in math. This is my goal because I am not doing good in math. I should do this 50% more every time I know an answer to a math question.

My first short term goal is to stay in at recess and get help for the math lesson we did. I should stay in to get help because I might not understand something when the teacher is explaining it to us at school. It depends when I need help. I should stay in once or more a week. I can achieve this goal.

My second short term goal is that I should raise my hand more in math. I should raise my hand because then I will get a good mark. I should achieve this when I know the answer, and about five times a day.

My third short term goal is that I should ask questions more in math. I should ask questions because I might not understand something. I should ask when I don't understand something, and about two or more times a day.

My last short term goal is that I should review my notes everyday. I should review them because when the teacher picks on me I know the answer. I should do this once at home.

In conclusion my goal is to get good marks in math. If I achieve this then I will get good marks in math on my report card.

Hello my name is Jonathan and these are my goals and how I will achieve them.

Firstly I will try to focus more in class because I sometimes can't focus on work because I get distracted when there is a high amount of noise/talking. I can do this by zoning into my work and not paying attention to anybody else.

Next I would like to do more work to the best of my abilities. I can work on this by taking more time with my work instead of rushing through my work and I can also check over my work.

Thirdly I would like to do all of my homework and hand it in to the teacher on time .I can do this by making sure everything is ready for the next day.

Lastly I would like to get better marks overall because I was not happy with my last report card so I will do my work on time and focus.
Those are my goals and how I will achieve them.

Why are goals important they are important because to succeed in life. My goals are to get better in math language and my long term goal is to get better in science.

How I am going to achieve my goals are by getting better in math because my future job is to be a mechanic engineer so I have to be good in math. I'll try to get better by concentrating on what the teacher is saying.

My second goal is to get better in language because I am not good at spelling or writing. I am going to achieve this goal is by writing everyday and by reading everyday.

My third goal is to get better in gym because I can't run that fast so I can't get the soccer ball as fast as others people can. I am going to achieve this goal is by biking and running everyday.

My long term goal is to get better in science. This is because my future job needs science too. I am going to understand what I am doing in class.

In conclusion goals are important in life they will help you to succeed in life.

What I want to achieve this year

Hi my name is Mansaran and I am in Ms. Hiley's grade six class. My goals for this year are to raise my English mark by 10%, read a lot of books that have words I don't know, improve my grammar and use better words in various paragraphs. I also want to speak more clearly.

I want to raise my English mark by 10%. I will do that by finding the meaning of every word I say or read. I think it will take me five weeks to achieve this goal by practicing every other day and getting help from my mom.

I will improve grammar by practicing every other day. I think it will take me five weeks to achieve this goal.

I want to read a lot of books that have words I don't know. I will do that by going to the library and getting books that have words I don't know. I think it will take me three weeks to achieve this goal.

I want to use better words in sentences and paragraphs. I want to use many words as possible that I have learned. I think I will achieve this goal in two weeks by practicing every other day.

I want to speak clearly because sometimes I mumble and my teacher and other students can't understand me. I think it will take me four weeks to achieve this goal by talking clearer with everybody.

These goals are really important to me because they help me improve to me because they help me improve myself and the way I learn. So I am willing to achieve these goals in this year. I hope I follow these steps to achieve my goals.

Hi, my name is Khemar. This passage consists of my short term and long term goals, and how I can achieve them through hard-work, studying and focus.

My first short term goal is to improve in math. I can achieve this goal by working on my multiplication, division, subtraction and also my addition tables. This will take me about 3 to 4 weeks.

My second short term goal is to read more, and this will increase my vocabulary. I am not sure how short term this goal will be but I intend to start working on this right away. It should take me about three weeks to start my achievement in this.

Another short term goal is to study more and do extra work in my spare time. I think that this will take me about 2 to 3 weeks to achieve this goal.

My last short term goal is to stop talking in class. I could pursue this goal by paying more attention in class and avoid the unnecessary talking with my classmates. I expect this goal to take me about one week to accomplish.

My long term goal is to get straight A's on my report card and I can pursue this goal by reviewing my notes, studying, focusing and doing my work. I think that this will take me about 2 to 3 months to accomplish this goal.

In conclusion, if I focus on achieving my short term goals then I will be in a position to also focus and accomplish my long term goals. I believe I am capable of doing all of the above.

HIMASHI'S GOALS

Hi, my name is Himashi and I have many goals that I want to accomplish. I have four short term goals and one long term goal. I am going to tell you about them.

My first short term goal is to know and memorize the multiplication tables. It is important to me to memorize the multiplication tables so I can do multiplication math questions faster. I want to learn all the multiplication tables. I want to learn the multiplication tables up to twelve times twelve. My goal is achievable if I practice them every day. My goal will maybe take two weeks to achieve.

My second short term goal is to do well in visual arts. I want to do well in visual arts because I really like art and I want to be good at it. In addition, I want to good marks in visual arts because then I know that I am improving in my art skills. My goal is achievable if I take more time on my assignments and show more detail in my drawings. My goal is important to me because I want to go to a arts school. This goal will probably take me the rest of the school year to accomplish.

My third short term goal is to do well in language. I want to be better at writing summaries. I want to be so good that I can write I summary that has no mistakes and is perfect. My goal is achievable if I take my time and look over my work. My goal is important to me because then I will be good at writing summaries. This goal will take me three weeks to achieve.

My final sort term goal is to listen more in class. I want to listen more in class because if I am not paying attention in class, I might miss something. I am going to start listening more in class every day. My goal is achievable if I don't daydream or look somewhere else. If someone is doing something silly, I will just ignore them and keep on paying attention to what the teacher is saying. I will follow this goal until the end of the school year.

My long term goal is to get A's on my report card. I want to get A's on my report card because then I can go to a good high school. I want all my subjects to be A's. If my report card doesn't have all A's then it is ok. I will try in the next term. My goal is achievable if I try really hard each day. My goal is very important to me because I want to be very educated. I will work on my goal every day for the rest of the school year.

Those were my four short term goals and my one long term goal. I hope I accomplish my goals. I also hope I accomplish my goals in the time I wrote down.

POWER OF THE PEN

Hi my name is Jonathan V. and I will be sharing some short term goals and a long term one with you.

My first goal is to do and bring my homework to school each day. I can achieve this with reminders from parents, siblings, teachers, and fellow students. The time needed to achieve this goal depends on how organized and prepared I can be.

My second goal is to talk less in class. If I do not achieve this goal soon my marks could go down because, I often miss what the speaker is saying. I can meet this goal by sitting with further away from my friends. This way I will not feel like I should talk to them.

My third goal is to get better at language. This is a very important goal because it will help me in the future. I could achieve this goal by reading more words so I can get a better vocabulary. The best person to help with this goal is me.

My fourth and final goal is to get better at sports. Some of the ways I can meet this goal is to join some sport clubs. I could also join the some of the schools teams. The people that could help me achieve this goal are my dad and friends. The time to meet this goal might be around 6 to 9 months.

Those are all of my short term and long term goals. See you later!!!!

Hi my name is Bipan and today I will be talking about my goals and how I accomplish them, my first goal is to improve in my academics and mostly in math so I can be wealthy when I'm older. I want to accomplish this goal because everything we do math is embraced in it like in the making of clothing's and in words and so on and so on. I could achieve this goal if I'm always ready for math class and ready to learn.

My second goal is to become a brighter student so the teachers will know me as a bright student that comes to school every day with a smile and read to learn and I will be able to achieve this goal by helping others and I will try to reach this goal by the end of the school year.

My third goal of this year is to become a better learner so I can look at the teachers when he or she's teaching and do my work and hand them in on the due dates. I will try to accomplish this goal by the end of the school year.

My fourth aim of this year is to be an organized individual so I know where everything is and I can pull it out at any time. This is one of biggest goals because this goal is going to help me when I'm older and I would try to achieve this goal by the end of this year.

My last aim is to become a leader because I don't want the younger kids making the same mistakes I did when I was young and I will try to achieve this goal every day of my life.

2011-2012 Goals

The Short and Long term goals I would like to achieve for this school year of 2012 are to get better in French, make the soccer team, improve in Math, improve in Health, and my long term goal is to get better at all the subjects I am not good at. These are my goals that I would like to achieve for the school year of 2012.

My first goal is to improve in French. This can be accomplished by improving in my oral communications. I will achieve this by practicing and listening in class so I know how to say the words. I will do this everyday for two weeks.

My second goal is to make the Soccer Team. To achieve this goal I will practice and listen to my coach (during soccer practice which I have after school). I will practice everyday for two weeks.

My third goal is to improve in Math. I can do this by asking questions in the classroom. By doing that I will improve in math if I don't understand what the teacher is talking about. I will do this everyday for two weeks.

My fourth goal is to improve in Health. I will be more active in gym class and participate more in things instead of just sitting there and doing nothing in class. I will do this everyday for two weeks.

My long term goal is to improve in all the subjects I am not good in, so I can be smart and more athletic. I will do this everyday until the end of the school year of 2012.

These are all my short term and long term goals and I will accomplish these goals before the end of the school year of 2012, and I hope you enjoyed my goals for the year of 2011-2012.

Thank You for Listening and Hope You Enjoyed!
