

Course Information Sheet

Course Title English – University

Course Code ENG3U0

What do you do in this course?	What you do NOT do in this course.
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Develop reading, writing and oral language skills. • Units include developing critical literacy by reading a variety of texts, analyzing elements of narrative, literary devices, spoken word poetry, studying critical approaches/theories (especially gender criticism and psychoanalytical theory) a novel study and a play. • Assignments include creative projects, essays with primary and secondary sources and seminars using rules of formal language. • Students are also responsible for doing independent academic research and a presentation for the culminating activity. • Students are introduced to the lecture format of instruction. • Present several seminars/assignments to the class • There is a final examination.

Recommended knowledge/skills for successful completion
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Excellent independent work habits. • Demonstrate responsibility--read the texts independently and make active reading notes. • Actively participate in class discussion and group work. • Use the writing process to write rough drafts, edit and produce final good copies. • Students must be familiar with formal writing conventions.

Other (eg. Homework commitment)
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Students will have two to three hours of homework per week.

Please note: This form will assist students/parents in selecting courses that reflect the aptitudes and interests of the student. Be sure to check the common course calendar for a required prerequisite.